

help design new homes for local people

Would you like to be involved in influencing the design of future homes for residents of your Housing Association? And, in so doing, gain skills and knowledge about building design, modern methods of construction and eco-friendly homes which are well planned and energy efficient?

We are setting up a Design Panel for interested residents across the Matrix Housing Partnership. Matrix is a group of associations that work together. The members are Accord (and bchs), Ashram, Caldmore, Trident, Trent & Dove and Rooftop.

If you are interested please get in touch with us by phoning bchs on 0121 764 3839, emailing info@bchs.org.uk or posting the attached reply slip.

Being involved in the design of my own home has changed my home and my life! When we started I was sharing a bedroom with my daughter and dreamt of the day I might play with her in our own back garden. I was 29 and my daughter was 5 years old. That day came and I now live in a house that I have helped design.

We met with the architect and discussed plans of the site and individual houses. I got to see the development grow from a drawing on paper to the last brick. I got to know my neighbours before we moved in. I can feel very proud that I have helped make my home better and learnt loads in the process!

Resident Involvement is the way forward. It encourages residents to take more pride in their homes as they have assisted in the design. Where else could you have an input into your home unless you are buying it? It is a very exciting position to be in making improvements to both yours and others homes.
